

Incorporating TNG and InBiz

Avanta, comprising TNG and InBiz, is one of the UK's leading private sector employment-focused training and enterprise companies.

Operating from over 100 locations across the UK, Avanta offers a complete training, recruitment, mentoring and business support service to develop employment and skills in the UK. Avanta works with both the private and public sectors, including government agencies and departments such as The Department for Work and Pensions, Jobcentre Plus, Regional Development Agencies and the Skills Funding Agency.

Whether it's helping individuals get back to work or set up and run a business, supporting employers to train their staff or recruit the right people, Avanta are committed to providing services that make a difference.

Together under the Avanta banner, TNG and InBiz are able to deliver the total solution that takes people and organisations from welfare through to workforce development and from exclusion to entrepreneurship.

InBiz has been a client of Evolution (previously Vantis Plc) since 2004. With the creation of Avanta Enterprise Limited on 1 April 2006, as a holding company to facilitate the merger between TNG and InBiz, the firm was appointed as auditors of the entire enlarged group.

Beyond fulfilling the statutory requirements of audit and taxation compliance, members of the Evolution team have also played an important part in assisting the Avanta accounts team.

This includes providing advice on improving their financial reporting and dealing with some complicated transactions in their dynamic and expanding business. The respective teams have built up an excellent working relationship, with Evolution staff playing an important part in Avanta and always the first port of call in assisting the Avanta finance department with accounting and other reporting issues.

The Evolution team have also conducted a number grant audit assignments in a timely manner, meeting challenging deadlines so that specific grant funding can be received, as well as assisting with a number of other ad hoc projects.

"Over the years we have built up a strong and mutually beneficial working relationship, our teams are in contact with each other regularly throughout the year" Colin Martin, Avanta Group FD explains.

"If we are ever in need of any help or advice we can always pick up the phone to a friendly, familiar voice that is happy to help in any way.

"This is particularly helpful as we are an expanding business, with financial reporting requirements changing all of the time and my team working to tight deadlines it is important to have people working with us who understand our needs and are able to provide timely and easy to understand advice at short notice."
